PEARL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

At the regular business meeting of the Senior Class last Monday afternoon, the principal named the honor pupil for the Commencement exercises of this year. Miss Hattie E. Hodgkins, the accomplished daughter of our esteemed fellow-townsmen, Mr. W.
 H. Hodgkins, won the salutatory honor by virtue of the highest scholarship of both the January and June divisions. Mr. Lewis O. Manson, a very fine young man, who is the son of Mr.
 Joe T. Manson, won the salutatory honor by virtue of having attained the highest scholarship in the June division. Mr. Lewis Manson will be greatly missed next year, as he was a splendid football player and filled an important position on the team. The following officers of the class were elected: Mr. Lewis O. Manson, President; Miss Sadie L. Watson, Sec'y; Miss Ruthy L. Jones, Treasurer.

This school was favored with a visit and an address by Rev. G. W. Moore, Field Secretary of the American Missionary Association last week. It was the opinion of both teachers and pupils that it was one of the best addresses that had ever been made to the school. Mr. Moore said that in addition to the three educations that we read and hear so much about, the education of the head, the hand, and the heart, as represented by intellectual education, industrial education and moral education, he wanted to give another—the education of habit.
 He spoke of the importance of young people acquiring the habit of punctuality, the habit of thoroughness, the habit of truthfulness, the habit of patience, the habit of reliability and the habit of purity. Each habit was emphasized with apt illustrations drawn from the large experience and extensive travel of the speaker. He contrasted the educational advantages of the children of Nashville with those of New Orleans and Atlanta, in which two cities they have no High School for colored children and advised the pupils to make the very best use of their opportunities. At the conclusion of his address, a vote of thanks was extended him.

Miss Elizabeth B. Moore, the efficient directress of the Cooking Department, has been absent from her post eight days on account of sickness. Her place has been acceptably filled by Miss Birdie Haynes, of Fisk University.

The pupils of the Grammar Department have been giving your reporter a tongue-lashing for not sending in the names of those who made high marks in the last written examination in the grammar grades, as well as those who made good marks in the High School grades. For the sake of harmony, Mr. Editor, and to save the neck of your reporter, will you please publish that in the Grammar Department, the following pupils passed with averages attached:

Miss E. J. Pinkard's Class: Lawrence Buford, 86; Willie B. Flagg, 90; Frank C. Ledbetter, 96.
 Miss C. M. Bryant's Class: Jno. T.
 Barnes, 87.
 Miss M. E. Berry's Class: Willa
 Brown, 89.

SHELBYVILLE NOTES.

There has been quite a stir here for the last two weeks on account of what is reported to be several smallpox cases in town. Business has been somewhat affected as well as the attendance in the schools both white and colored. Things are now assuming normal conditions, and the scare is about all over.

The latest prank of cupid was the center shot he gave Miss Alice Buchanan and Mr. Elvin Furgerson. They are now one, and have taken up their abode with Mrs. Maggie Green. The groom is sick at this writing.

Turner Normal Institute is still full to overflowing. About all the city students, who fled at the smallpox scare, have returned and resumed their studies. The students of Turner Normal will give a concert at the college Friday night, the 14th.

Dr. J. A. Jones visited his family in Nashville last week and spent a couple of days.

Mr. N. L. Thomas, of Summitville, is the latest arrival as a student in Turner Normal.

The First Baptist Church will soon be without a pastor again. Rev. Mr.
 Seymour is said to have accepted a call to a church in Clarksville. His leaving will be regretted by all the people of this community.

Rev. J. C. McAdams preached an excellent sermon last Sunday at the A. M. E. Church. All the students of Turner were out to the services.

Miss Cleo Buchanan and Mr. Hatton Buchanan, formerly of the public school, have recently enrolled with Turner Normal.

The T. N. I. Base Ball team is already getting ready to cross bats with Pearl High School at the opening of the season. This is to fill an engagement made last season that could not be met for some reason. The team is much stronger this year. Several new men are on this year.

EBENEZER NOTES

 was largely attended. Services were conducted by Revs. N. Smith and in Osage City, Kansas.

The subscribers who are behind will please settle with Mrs. Anna Walker.

MT. OLIVE CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Sunday school was called to order promptly at 9:30 o'clock by the superintendent, Mr. James Hurt. Nearly 200 pupils were present, and a liberal collection was raised. The classe studied the lesson for the day 30 minutes, after which Mr. George Binkley reviewed the lesson in a most impressive way. The school was favored with a number of visitors, among whom were Rev. E. W. D. Isaac, Secretary of B. Y. P. U. Board; Dr. L. G.
 Jordan, Secretary of Foreign Mission Board of Louisville; Mr. Rayfield, formerly of Tuskegee, but now of Birmingham; Mr. McIntyre, of Fisk, and Rev. Wm. Beckham. Dr. Jordan and Mr. Rayfield delivered short, stirring addresses to the school and Mr.
 McIntyre made a forceful presentation of the coming folk-lore cantata.
 Benediction was pronounced by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Clark.

The regular meeting of teachers and officers was held Tuesday night. The lesson for Sunday, February 16, "Jesus Heals the Nobleman's Son," was discussed and many beautiful points brought out. Rev. J. P. Robinson, of Little Rock, Ark., addressed the meeting. Benediction was pronounced and the meeting adjourned.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE'S GRAVE.

Now Helping Out the Ambition of a Preacher of the Future.

The rest of the United States might unite in celebrating the Whittier centenary if it wanted to, but one town to which the Quaker poet gave fame couldn't be persuaded to join.

Frederick, Md., is divided still as to whether the lady with "the snow white hair" really did shake the Stars and Stripes out the window of the little house on Patrick street, and it has never been very grateful to Whittier for the fame it got out of the poem.
 But Barbara Frietchie did live there at any rate.

What is very much more to the ends of one youngster with a strong commercial instinct, the lady is buried there and without a headstone of any kind. Moreover, there are enough tourists whose nerves once tingled with delight as they chanted the lines "Who touches a hair of yon gray head," etc., to provide a pretty steady stream of visitors to the high walled cemetery.

The key, a monstrous affair on a foot long stick, is kept at the sexton's house, and as the key squeaks in the ponderous old lock of the high gray wall it seems as if, in keeping with all the dignified old town, the opening gates ought to reveal at least something worth while. The place more often sports a fair hay crop, in which one prowls about hunting for the grave of the supposed heroine.

"Wahnter see Barbara Frietchie's grave?"

The accent of the very small faced bespectacled boy barely visible over the top of the wall—his ladder must be all but too short for him—is indescribable with its trace of the South and its veiled hint of business.

"Yes. Do you know where it is?"

Evidently he was only waiting for a chance to be willing, and with trousers rescued by just one suspender he drops over the wall and heads like a bee for the grave.

Evidently too he knew just what questions every one asked, for he at once pointed out the fields across which Stonewall swept that day when he came to the brook beside which the Frietchie cottage stood.

"Really, now, do you believe Barbara Frietchie did that?"

The boy begged the question with "Don't you want a pebble to keep?" coaxingly pointing to the top of the grave, neatly heaped with white stones, and when the visitors rather hesitated urged "Most folks'r right fond o' pebbles. Uncle'n I put more'n two bushels on that ere grave this summer beside them ere now."

And then nudgingly:

"Most everybody gi' me a dime, I'm savin' my money'n"—triumphantly, as if that ought to settle the value of white pebbles from Barbara Friechie's grave—"I'm going to be a preacher."—New York Sun.

PEOPLE'S INVESTMENT AND BANKING COMPANY.

A Birmingham Institution Is Making Rapid Progress.

The first annual report of the People's Investment and Banking Company of Birmingham, came out in the form of an affidavit showing the financial growth of the institution in twelve months. It is the second banking concern of the great city in the south, where the iron and coal industry seems to thrive and where the Negroes handle thousands of dollars each week. The president and the promoter of this institution is Prof. W. L. Lauderdale, who is also President of the Great Southern and Industrial Home. The affidavit shows a decided increase in the deposits during the past three months by more than $9,000.00. They handled in actual cash the first year $95,000. It was the only banking concern in that city that paid cash to its depositors during the recent financial panic, refusing to abide by the decision of the clearing house at Birmingham. At a recent election of officers, the following were elected: W. L. Lauderdale, President; Dr. R. D. Macklin, Vice President; A. D. Jordan, Cashier; Thomas A. Harris, Acting Cashier.
 The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: W. L. Lauderdale, Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. R. B.
 Maclin, N. Birmingham, Ala.; Rev. T.
 W. Walker, Birmingham, Ala.; Griffin G. Logan, D. D., Holly Springs, Miss.; C. M. Wells, D. D., Montgomery, Ala.; E. J. Greggs, M. D., Bessemer, Ala.; T. J. Flood, Montgomery, Ala.; H. L. Calloway, Birmingham, Ala.; S. S. Bradford, Birmingham, Ala.; H. C. Ellington, Birmingham, Ala.; N. A. James, Washington, D. C.; J.
 D. Dickerson, Fort Bayard, New Mexico; Mrs. Mary E. Allen, Atlanta, Ga.
 The institution is in a building owned by the Great Southern Insurance Co., at 1727 Third avenue, North, and is doing business on capital stock of 10,000, which is to be increased next year to $50,000.

REV. J. P. ROBINSON, D.D., OF LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

On Tuesday the 11th inst. Nashville had the pleasure of entertaining Rev.
 J. P. Robinson, D. D., of Little Rock, Ark., who came over to be present at the monthly meeting of the Publishing Board. He spent a busy day in the city. At 9:30 he spoke to the employees of the Publishing House at their Chapel Services, from 10 to 12 he was attending the Board Meeting, he dined with Dr. Boyd at 12:30 and was the guest of Rev. W. S. Ellington and Prof. Talley in the afternoon, he addressed the Teacher's Meeting at Mt.
 Olive Baptist Church at 8 o'clock and left on the 11:30 train for his home in Arkansas. Dr. Robinson is not only a great minister but a great business man, being connected with the Capital City Savings Bank of Little Rock, Ark., the leading Negro banking concern in the state of Arkansas, and the pastor of the largest Baptist church in the state.

NEGRO RECEIVES MORTAL WOUNDS.

Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., February 10.— Mr. Frank Booze was shot and critically wounded Saturday afternoon by Jar-ret Venoy. Mr. Venoy and a crowd of men, it is stated, were teasing Booze in a blacksmith shop operated by Mr.
 Wm. Upshaw. Mr. Booze became enraged and is said to have told Venoy he was going to kill him. He left immediately, walking just across the street to his room and secured a gun.
 As he walked out of the door of his room Venoy, who was standing in the blacksmith shop door, just opposite, hallooed and told him not to advance on him. As Booze stepped off the sidewalk Venoy opened fire with a 32-calibre pistol, shooting him through the bowels. After the second shot Booze wheeled and fell on the edge of the sidewalk. Deputy Sheriff Harris arrested Venoy and locked him up.
 Venoy claims self-defense and said he was afraid of Booze and shot him, thinking his own life was in danger.
 Venoy is a blacksmith employed by Mr. Upshaw, and bears a good reputation for peace and quiet. Booze, until recently, was employed by the telephone company.
